"I like to shop at CarDomain, knowing if there is a problem they will take care of it without any hassles."

Steve's Tahoe serves double duty as his current project vehicle and family car. The audio system features no less than six amplifiers and two 18" subwoofers in a custom enclosure with two deep cycle batteries providing the juice. A Pioneer In-dash DVD screen and 7" LCD monitors in the rear headrests keep passengers entertained on the road. Steve altered his Tahoe's stance with a 3" drop and added huge 22" custom wheels. When Steve is in a hurry to get groceries, he enjoys the added power provided by his K&N air filter and custom dual exhaust system.

► A custom plexiglas subwoofer enclosure completely fills the cargo compartment of the Tahoe.

► Hidden under the seats, Rockford Fosgate stiffening capacitors (pg. 53) and wiring provide power to the sound system.

► A K&N air filter (pg. 79) adds horsepower and torque to the Tahoe's stock engine.

The screenshot shows the CarDomain.com website interface. At the top, it says "CarDomain.com" and "Member Profile". Below that, it lists "STEVE'S CHEVROLET" and "2001 CHEVROLET TAHOE". The page includes a "VOTE" button and a "GUESTBOOK" section. There are also two small images of the Tahoe: one showing a group of people standing around it, and another showing the vehicle from a rear three-quarter view.
